About Botham's of Whitby

Since 1865, Elizabeth Botham & Sons has been a family run craft bakery in the ancient port of Whitby on the North Yorkshire coast. Elizabeth Botham started the business by selling her bread and cakes from a basket at the market in Whitby, and built up the business herself, passing it on to her descendants. Following our original recipes, the finest ingredients are skilfully combined to produce a wide range of bakery products from Biscuits, Bread and Cakes to Pork Pies. We have four premises in Whitby, all have shops, two have tea rooms, and we have one shop & tea room in Pickering.

About the staff

Staff working at Botham's must have impeccable manners, be polite and courteous at all times and be passionate about providing an excellent service. They are naturally positive, professional and have a 'can do attitude'.

Customers are our priority, they are always treated with the upmost care and attention, and sales & tea room staff enjoy selling and talking to customers about Botham's products.

Staff generally have their specialised area of work, but we all multi-task. Training is provided and staff are encouraged ask for more training if they feel they need it, and ask colleagues questions/ask for help whenever needed.

Staff take pride in their appearance, are clean and tidy at all times, and smile whenever greeting and speaking to our customers. Flexibility of all staff members is essential. Staff may be expected to work weekends. Allocated hours may vary due to seasonal changes.

Staff benefit from a 25% discount on Botham's own products and a 10% discount on non-Botham's products and birthday cakes.

We have a pension plan for employees and competitive hourly rates.

If you would like to return your application form, a Manager will be in touch if you are to be invited an interview.

We prefer to contact via email, please supply an email address where possible. If no email address is provided, please note a confirmation of Application Form receipt will not be sent by post.
